

JACKPINE PADDLE

EAST ARM GREAT SLAVE LAKE

EXPLORING CANADA'S ARCTIC BY KAYAK

The Northwest Territories has never been tamed. Larger than all but a handful of sovereign nations, it's where North America's deepest lake sits surrounded by plunging granite cliffs. It's the best place in the world to catch the Aurora - nature's greatest lightshow. And where people trace timeless paths, following lifeways richer than the modern world can know.

EXPLORE THE BIG WATERS OF EAST ARM

East Arm Wilderness Kayak Expedition

9 days - 8 nights, Novice to Intermediate Paddlers

Experience incredible fishing & scenery on Canada's Great Slave Lake. This trip takes place in "Thaidene Nene" or "The Land of our Ancestors", a park-in-waiting, slated for federal and territorial protection in the next few years. The park will guard the glorious East Arm of Great Slave Lake - 27,000 square kilometres of spectacular and pristine waterways, forests, and Canadian Shield. Thaidene Nene is an angler's Shangri La. The deep waters shelter Lake Trout a century old and fat as a fireplug. All around the East Arm Arctic Grayling leap along shore and Northern Pike ply shallow bays and channels. Whether you're sinking your line into the seemingly bottomless depths offshore Etthen Island or trolling behind your kayak, you'll gather fish stories to last a lifetime. Breathtaking cliffs are built from rock as old as 2.7-billion years (the oldest in the world), making for some of the most epic campsites you'll ever experience. To add an element of magic to these expeditions, we've picked dates to take advantage of autumn Aurora season. As you tip your head back in awe to catch the glittering lights dancing across the sky, we'll show you the best of our spectacular Aurora. Great Slave Lake lies directly in the magnetic "Aurora Belt", which means it's one of the most reliable places on earth to spot the northern lights.
